CASPERIA is a small town located in the Lazio region of Italy in the province of Rieti. It is located close to Rome and Rieti. It can be reached by train from central Rome or the airport to Poggio Mirteto and then by bus or taxi (approx a further 20 minutes). The town has managed to retain its medieval architecture and has a traditional and relaxed feel which is rare to see in Italy in recent times. The property at Casa Oliva can comfortably sleep 5 people (2 bedrooms) and is 10 minutes from the nearest shop and bar. Casperia has a pizzeria, a supermarket, bars and a restaurant, hairdresser and beauty salon. The local Agriturismo is a further 15-minute walk from the town. There is plenty of opportunity for local hikes, cycling, beautiful walks or just sitting with nature in the grove. Lakes and mountains are accessible by car and the region boasts the most incredible scenery in this prolific olive-producing region.
